

~ Weekly Angelic Forecast ~

For: Jane Doe

Week Of: Monday, March 21st, 2022

The Archangel working with you right now is Archangel Gabriel, whose name means God Is My Strength and whose aura is the color of copper. Gabriel's message to you: Let your voice be a tool for creation! Speak about the things you desire, affirm the very best and express words of gratitude. Your voice is powerful...let it work for you, not against you!

Archangel Raphael, the Angel of Healing, invites you to heal old emotional patterns that no longer serve you. Stop seeing yourself as a victim; instead, see yourself as a victor. You CAN have the things that you desire.

Archangel Michael, who cuts away fear and lower energies, encourages you to have fun! Life is meant to be enjoyed, not endured. Where are you taking things far too seriously? How can you have more fun doing household chores and things on your to-do-list? Let it be fun!

Do you find yourself struggling with something? Have you asked your angels for help with that? You have a powerful team of angelic beings ready, willing and able to help you! Reach out to them and be willing to receive.

Self-love and self-care should always be high on your priority list, but this week your angels ask you to have even more love, for you! Be a best friend forever – to you!

Are you more focused on what's "wrong" or what's "right?" See the beauty of each new moment...greet each new day, with arms wide open! Be open to miracles...be open to love!

Listen...did you hear that? Your angels are talking with you in the most creative of ways! Sometimes their messages may come through as gentle whispers, or perhaps it may be in a song that you "suddenly" keep hearing over/over. Be willing to hear the voice of the angels!

Stop waiting for XYZ to happen in order to "be happy." For what possible reason would you put your happiness on hold? Be happy...NOW! There is so much to be grateful for. ENJOY the gift of being alive!
